UAE backs long-term Nigeria investments, trade growth - Punch

The United Arab Emirates has said that its long-term economic commitments to Nigeria remain intact, citing growing trade volumes, increased investment activity and emerging opportunities in technology and infrastructure. Speaking on the evolving economic relationship between both countries, UAE Minister of State at the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, Saeed Bin Mubarak Al Hajeri, said Nigeria has become an increasingly important partner within the UAE's broader engagement across Africa. According to him, in an interview made available to The PUNCH, the relationship is being driven by long-term economic priorities rather than short-term global developments. "The UAE-Nigeria partnership is defined by resilience and a shared vision for growth. We see significant opportunities to deepen cooperation, particularly in infrastructure, logistics, energy, and other sectors that drive long-term economic development," he said. Dangote Refinery lowers petrol price by N75/l as oil falls by 5% - Vanguard

Dangote Petroleum Refinery has reduced the ex-depot price of Premium Motor Spirit (PMS), popularly known as petrol, by six per cent, or N75 per litre, following a sharp decline in global crude oil prices triggered by easing tensions in the Middle East. The refinery said in a circular to marketers that the new ex-gantry price has been reduced from N1,250 per litre to N1,175 per litre, effective from midnight on June 16, 2026. The latest adjustment came as Brent crude, the international benchmark for oil prices, fell by five per cent to $78.87 per barrel yesterday from $82.72 per barrel on Monday, following an agreement between the United States and Iran, and the reopening of the Strait of Hormuz. Nigeria committed to single African air market - Keyamo - Punch

The Minister of Aviation and Aerospace Development, Festus Keyamo, has reiterated Nigeria's commitment to the ideals of the Single African Air Transport Market and the African Continental Free Trade Area, stressing that enhanced air connectivity remains critical to unlocking Africa's economic potential. Keyamo stated this on the sidelines of the ongoing African Air Transport Convention and Expo 2026 in Lomé, Republic of Togo, according to a statement issued by his Special Adviser on Media and Communications, Tunde Moshood. The minister noted that Nigeria would continue to collaborate with other African countries and regional aviation institutions to advance policies and partnerships aimed at strengthening air transport across the continent. Labour to engage FG on minimum wage review - Punch

The Nigeria Labour Congress and the Trade Union Congress said they will restart negotiations with the Federal Government over a new national minimum wage, warning that workers can no longer cope with rising living costs as inflation continues to erode real incomes. The unions are pushing for what they described as a "genuine living wage" to replace the current framework, which they said no longer reflects Nigeria's economic realities, particularly sharp increases in food, transport, housing, and healthcare costs. The position was contained in a joint address delivered at the 114th International Labour Conference in Geneva on Monday, where the unions also rejected any proposal to tax the minimum wage or impose additional fiscal burdens on low-income earners. NCC begins telecom pricing review after eight years - Punch

The Nigerian Communications Commission, working with consultancy KPMG, has begun a comprehensive review of telecom interconnection pricing, the first major reassessment of the sector's tariff framework in nearly a decade. The exercise, kicked off in Lagos at a mobile termination rate stakeholder forum on Tuesday, brought regulators, operators and industry participants into a structured process to reassess wholesale pricing rules that govern payments between networks for completing voice calls. Mobile Termination Rates are regulated fees paid by one operator to another to complete calls across networks. They influence competition, investment, and retail pricing. The telecom regulator said the current framework, last set in 2018 and adjusted in 2022, has been overtaken by structural changes in the market, including the rollout of 5G, the expansion of data-led services, and the entry of mobile virtual network operators.
